

There are no words that properly express my thanks for all the prayers and comforting messages I received during the most devastating week of my life.

Just knowing that so many prayers were going out for my son and the crew of the USS Stark helped me get through each day.

There are 184 survivors who still need our prayers. Perhaps you will take a moment and ask God to be their escort on the long voyage home.

Again, my family and I thank you from the bottom of our hearts. My son and the crew of the USS Stark very deeply thank you.

Sincerely,

Jean Brown
